

Storage:

Perishable – keep refrigerated or frozen. Follow date label instructions on bottom of container. Serve within two days of opening.

To Open: Pull on “open” tab, then pop up lid. Keep “open” tab out of children’s reach to avoid choking hazard.

To re-close containers press firmly on edges of lid.

Heating:

If frozen, thaw in refrigerator overnight.

Quickly warm by placing open container in shallow bowl of hot water. Stir contents until evenly heated.

To microwave, open container, then heat on “Medium” for 15-second intervals until desired temperature is reached. Stir contents until evenly heated.

When heating, always be sure to stir contents thoroughly, and test temperature before serving.

Be creative

For variety, pomme bébé’s fruit and vegetable blends may be served warm, chilled or at room temperature.

Flavors and textures may be mixed to create custom meals according to your baby’s tastes.

Heating with plastics

Manufactured in the Netherlands, pomme bébé’s containers are made from polypropylene, which does not have any known health risks. Our containers do NOT contain any phthalates or bisphenol A.

Our containers are certified for use in the food products industry, and are microwavable. All pomme bébé meals can be safely heated in separate containers as well.
